Challenges before Implementation

Before integrating Zimyo, WaferWire encountered hurdles in its HR processes. Overcoming these challenges involved addressing time-consuming payroll processing, aligning workflows, and preparing for a transformative implementation. Some of the major challenges include

Leave and Attendance monitoring

Before implementation, manual tracking of leave and attendance consumed excessive time, and the processes were disorganized.

Real-time reports and analytics

In the early stages, handling and generating manual reports for a smaller workforce was feasible. However, with a gradual increase in the workforce, handling leave and attendance reports manually became a challenge.

Salary Computation and Compliance Management

Prior to integrating with Zimyo Payroll, computing salaries with compliance management posed a time-consuming and challenging manual task for the HR team.

Centralized employee database

Initially, managing the employee database and performing tasks such as searching and editing employee details proved to be a time-consuming hurdle.

Our Tailored Solutions

To tackle WaferWire's challenges, Zimyo offered an automated, end-to-end solution that addressed all these challenges. The successful integration of Zimyo HRMS brought about a profound transformation in their HR processes.

Here's how Zimyo provided value to WaferWire

- ✓ Automated the payroll process for accurate salary computation, seamless disbursement and elimination of errors.
- ✓ Centralized the employee database to facilitate efficient management of employee data & details.
- ✓ Empowered the HR team to make data-driven decisions through robust reporting and analytics.
